DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-43 are allowed over the prior art of record.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant has claimed uniquely distinct features in the instant invention which are not found in the prior art either singularly or in combination. Each independent claims are identified the uniquely distinct features "a plurality of primary image models which primary image models are partial images that include locations and places that are filled in within the image models; and an image database, said database comprising a plurality of fill images which are selected to fill in said locations and places within the image models; and a graphical user interface in communication with the computer, said graphical user interface enabling a user to configure said advertising sequence by selecting an image model, and by customizing said image model by filling in said image model using only selected fill images from said image database filled into said primary image model, wherein said graphical user interface allows the user to select one or more fill images to be displayed within said primary image models." The closest prior art, van Hoff and Roebuck discloses a conventional advertisements are simply images that are displayed on the WWW; either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above limitation obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
